

W. J. MINTYRE WAS ELECTED

Janesville Man Named as the New Supervisor of Assessment.

BASIS FOR TAXES

County Board Fixes Upon a Valuation of $40,000,000 for Rock County.

SOME ILLEGAL TAXES

The third day's session of the county board was called to order this morning at 10 o'clock in the clerk's office by Chairman J. L. Bear. Thirty-one members answered to roll call several members coming in later and taking their seats.

The equalization board fixed the value of Rock county as a basis of taxation at forty million and that basis.

Elect W. J. McIntyre
W. J. McIntyre was elected as supervisor of assessment on the first ballot and the compensation for his services fixed at $3 per day, with no allowance for expenses.

The selection was a wise one as McIntyre having served the county for two years as county clerk is well acquainted with the values throughout the county and has always shown himself a conscientious and painstaking official. The vote of the board showed that they appreciated his services in the past. George Seegmiller of Beloit, his principal opponent, held the vote of the southern part as it was expected he would.

At the best the office will not be anything for anyone at $3 per day with no expense account. In this particular it was the object of the board in fixing the compensation to keep the one selected down to days actually engaged in the work.

A report in regard to illegal taxes was made by Clerk Starr and was referred to the proper committee.

Supervisor Livermore moved that the salary of the supervisor of assessment be fixed at $1 per day. Supervisor Eager moved as an amendment that they be fixed at $3 per day. Supervisor Gettle moved as an amendment that they be fixed at $3.50 per day. A vote on the amendment to the amendment was taken and resulted in its being lost. The salary was fixed at $3 as proposed by Supervisor Eager.

Chairman Bear made a statement to the board in regard to the equalization and after some few changes it was adopted as follows:

SPOONER HOPES FOR CANAL TREATY; HE ALSO OPPOSES THE SUBSIDY BILL

The Wisconsin Senator Believes That the Next Congress Will Settle the Isthmian Canal Affair.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 13.—Senator Spooner had lunch with the president today and they conferred in regard to important public questions. Senator Spooner declined to discuss the tenor of the conference with the president, but it is known that the subsidy bill, tariff and reciprocity measures as well as other matters which will be dealt with in the president's message were referred to.

When he left the White House Senator Spooner said that any prediction as to what will be done with the tariff and reciprocity questions would be mere guess work.

The Wisconsin senator believes that legislation providing for the construction of an isthmian canal will be enacted. He believes that an agreement on a treaty indicated in these dispatches will be ratified by the senate and that provision for the canal will be made comparatively early in the session.

Supervisor Bowles dissented from the report on the ground that it was unequal.

Supervisor Gettle presented a resolution which was adopted that the supervisor of assessment keep a journal in which a detail of the services performed by him each day should be entered.

A special order of business, the election of Supervisor of Assessment was taken up at eleven o'clock. Supervisor presented the name of W. J. McIntyre as a candidate for the office and Simon Smith of Beloit presented the name of George Seegmiller of Beloit.

Before proceeding to ballot Supervisor Bowles stated to the board that he was not a candidate for the office. An informal ballot was taken which resulted as follows: Seegmiller, 10; McIntyre, 20; Otis, 2; Brace, 2; Deniston, 1.

On motion of Supervisor Gettle the informal ballot was made formal and W. J. McIntyre was declared elected to the office for the term of three years.

Mr. McIntyre appeared before the board and made a short speech thanking them for the honor they had conferred upon him and stating that he would fulfill the duties of the office to the best of his ability.

The board then adjourned until 1:30 p. m.

Select County Bank
The Rock County National Bank will be the depository for the county funds during the year 1902. At the session of the county board this afternoon the finance committee reported that they had two bids for the deposit, one from the Merchants' and Mechanics' Savings bank to pay 1 1/2 per cent. interest and one from the Rock County National bank to pay 13 1/4 per cent. and recommended that the deposit be placed with the Rock County bank. Reports were received from numerous committees on bills, bridges, special assessments and illegal taxes.

ARE ORGANIZING SUICIDE CLUBS

Man from Newark, N. J., Said to Be Sort of Walking Delegate for New Organization.

Atlantic City, Nov. 14.—A suicide club has been formed in this city by a man from Newark named Bragie. It is reported that he will organize similar organizations in various parts of the state. The local society has thirty-four members and over 100 applications for membership have been received which will be acted upon at the regular weekly meeting.

The by-laws state that, once each year the members shall assemble at the place of meeting and each member draw one bean from a jar. He who receives the black bean must between the time of drawing and the next yearly meeting commit suicide. A sum of money will be set aside to defray the funeral expenses of each and every departed member.

SPARKS FROM THE WIRES

New York, Nov. 14.—There is little interest in New York in the Jeffries-Ruhlin fight, owing to the belief that Jeffries will win handsy. Odds of ten to four are offered on the boiler maker with few takers.

Norfolk, Va., Nov. 14.—Rev. W. G. Esteppe, for forty-four years pastor of the Baptist church at Inez, was fatally stabbed in the pulpit last night by George Daniels, who disapproved of the pastor's sermon on wickedness. Daniels was arrested.

TRAVELING MAN UNDER SUSPICION

Evansville, Ind., Nov. 14.—The police are confident that the murderer of Mrs. George Ralby and Lena Renner, the women strangled to death in the suburbs will be under arrest within twenty-four hours. An Evansville officer is now in St. Louis looking for a traveling salesman who is known to have been on intimate terms with Mrs. Ralby and was jealous of her. Witnesses claim to have seen the man in Evansville on the night of the murder. He probably will be arrested as he is expected to give a detailed explanation of his movements on the night of the crime.

ASK FOR AID TO CHECK SMALLPOX DISEASE IS GROWING MALIGNANT

Wisconsin Health Officer Says the Lack of Cooperation May Be Followed by an Epidemic—Logging Camps on Bad River Reservation Closed.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 14.—"Under existing circumstances the Wisconsin state board of health finds itself powerless to stamp out the smallpox in the state," said Dr. U. B. Wingate, secretary of the board, last night. "The board has received the co-operation of the local boards in all the affected districts, which are principally in the northern part of the state, but as long as cases are not reported promptly the board finds it impossible to properly quarantine the patients."

"Last week 100 new cases were reported, and upon examination it was found that in reality the majority were old cases and that numbers of persons had been exposed. Many physicians insist in calling the smallpox a form of itch. As long as they do this it will be impossible to take any effective means to check it. "The disease is constantly spreading and is growing malignant. The only known preventives of the spread are vaccination and quarantine."

DR. ADAMS LOANS A FINE COLLECTION

State Historical Society To Have Valuable Paintings—Point Ledge by Mrs. Adams Included.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 14.—Dr. and Mrs. C. K. Adams, who have decided to leave for Redlands, Cal., on Nov. 22, have loaned to the state historical society their large collection of paintings, bric-a-brac and statuary brought from European countries.

Mrs. Adams has also loaned her point ledge, the product of the looms of every country of the globe. This exhibit will be very interesting, as every article is properly labeled with name and description. Theodore Schroeder of Salt Lake City, a son-in-law of Professor J. B. Parkinson, vice president of the university, has given to the state historical society his library on Mormon history. This is one of the largest collection of books on this subject in existence, embracing as it does, 23,000 bound volumes, pamphlets and newspaper files.

LITTLE BETTING ON THE BIG FIGHT

Jeffries Is Irritable, But Expects To Win in a Battle of Brief Duration.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 14.—With the big fight but one day off there is less betting on the result than there is usually on a contest between ordinary second rate men. Another peculiar feature about the betting is that there is but little Jeffries money in sight, while there are plenty of men who are willing to back Ruhlin. This is probably due to the fact that the champion's supporters do not like to give two and a half to one. It is questionable whether all told there is more than $1,000 wagered on the fight in this city.

Against the advice of his trainers Jeffries put on the gloves this morning and had a lively boxing bout, and declares he will continue boxing to the very last. This change of policy has caused his trainers much worry, as they think he has done enough heavy work, but they are powerless in the matter. Jeffries now weighs about 210 pounds, and today he said he would go into the ring at that weight. If he does the difference between his weight and that of Ruhlin will be trifling as the Ohio man will fight at about 205.

CANCER WILL HAVE NO MORE TERRORS

Successful Experiments with the X Ray in the Treatment and Cure of Cancers.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—"We are in the beginning of an era when cancer will have no more terrors for anyone. In the last year and a half I have treated over fifty cases of cancer, including many forms of the disease, and have yet failed to find a single one that would not yield readily. I am of the belief that the disease can in the future be broken down quickly and surely, even when treatment does not begin before the disease is well advanced."

This confident statement was made yesterday by Dr. John Tilman, professor of materia medica in Hahnemann Medical College, with reference to the results of his experiments with Roentgen rays in the cure of cancer.

DISASTERS ON THE ENGLISH COAST

London, Nov. 14.—Reports of disaster and death attendant on the storm of wind and rain which flooded and swept the United Kingdom the past few days, continue to pour in. Hundreds of sheep and several shepherds lost their lives in Westerland. The life boat which went to the aid of a vessel in distress off Yarmouth today capsized. Three occupants were saved and eight are missing.

SUMMER SCHOOL FOR THE FARMER

National School for the Study of Agriculture, Zootechny and Farm Dairying.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 14.—The annual convention today decided to establish at Columbus, Ohio, a summer school for the study of agriculture, agronomy, zootechny, and dairying. Dr. A. C. True, the head of the office of experiment stations of the Department of Agriculture, will be director of the new institution. The Ohio State University will furnish the buildings and equipment. The plan adopted is for graduate students, instructors and investigators.

The section on mechanic arts, entomology, horticulture, botany, college work, agriculture and chemistry held sessions at which technical papers were read. The delegates to the convention were given a reception today by Secretary of Agriculture Wilson. The convention will close tonight.

WILL REORGANIZE THE STATE MILITIA

State Troops and the Regulars Will Join in Maneuvers on the Great Camp Grounds.

Washington, Nov. 14.—One of the principal features of the annual report of the Secretary of War, which will be made public shortly, relates to the question of a reorganization of the National Guard of the country. Secretary Root has decided to cover this subject in a general way in his annual report, and, while he will discuss the necessity of some action by congress looking to the reorganization of the militia, it is said that he has practically determined not to make any specific recommendations as to how this legislation should be framed.

Secretary Root will make recommendations looking to bringing the state troops and the regulars together in joint maneuvers on the great camp grounds of instruction to be provided, and he will also make recommendations for giving militia officers every facility to secure the practical training and instruction of regular army officers.

EXPORTS IN OCTOBER

They Were $17,000,000 Smaller Than in the Same Month Last Year—U. S. Treasury Report.

Washington, Nov. 14.—The exports of merchandise from the United States in October were smaller by about $17,000,000 than those of the same month in 1900. The shipments last year, however, were phenomenally large. The value of American goods sent abroad last month was larger by about $20,000,000 than in October 1899. Owing to the drought of last summer, the October exports of corn alone were $4,000,000 less than in the same month of the year before.

DAIRY SCHOOL OPENS

State Institution Begins with 124 Students Enrolled—One Comes from Japan.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 14.—The dairy school course began today and will continue for twelve weeks. One hundred and twenty-four students have been enrolled, which even now exceeds the supposed limit, and thirty others have been placed on the reserve list. These students come from every county in the state to learn the art of making factory butter and cheese. Six of the students enrolled are non-residents representing New Hampshire, Indiana, Iowa, Minnesota, Illinois and Japan. The Jap has come from his native land for this purpose solely.

MADISON IS WILD OVER FOOTBALL GAME WITH GOPHERS SATURDAY

Climax of 'Varsity Enthusiasm In A Mass Meeting To Night—Many Will Go From Janesville.

Madison, Nov. 14.—Wisconsin is in the approaching contest with Minnesota is steadily increasing.

Saturday will see a big bunch of football enthusiasts from this city, bound for Madison to attend the Wisconsin-Minnesota game. Janesville will be well supplied with special trains for this event, the one on the St. Paul road leaving at 9:45 a. m., and the one on the Northwestern at 1 p. m. Round trip tickets cost but $1.20 and are good to return until Monday.

It is conceded that this will be the greatest game of the year in this part of the country and will determine the championship of the Middle West. It is thought by many that Wisconsin will smother the Minnesota team but the knowing ones say some people may be a way off on this guess. The demand for seats to the game has been immense and the entire grand stand was sold out shortly after the sale opened. A new stand that will seat 2,000 is being erected near the old stand to supply the demand for seats. By the time the game is called every seat on the grounds will be worth $2 and there is a great demand for them at that price at present.

RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA

Delegation Urging the President to Take Up the Problem.

WAY IS NOT CLEAR

Joint High Commission's Failure to Harmonize the Differences Pointed Out.

STAND OF ROOSEVELT

Washington, Nov. 14.—The President was unable to give much encouragement to a delegation in favor of reciprocity with Canada that waited upon him. The committee, representing commercial organizations in a number of border and eastern cities, did not urge upon him any particular plan, directing attention solely to the results accomplished under the last treaty with Canada, which was abrogated in 1866, and explaining the advantageous results that would follow a more free interchange of products at this time. The large trade between the states and Canada, greater than that with all of South America, could be materially increased by tariff concessions, it was asserted, and the President was petitioned to solve the problem. He could not commit himself further than to express the hope that Congress would deal with the broad subject of reciprocity in a manner satisfactory to all. While the President did not pour cold water on the plea of the visitors, the organization which they represent must be familiar with the experience of the joint high commission when the subject of reciprocity with Canada was under consideration. After protracted sessions the commission was unable to solve the problem, and adjourned with its work uncompleted. The concessions demanded on one side could not be granted by the other, the American commissioners being especially helpless to meet the conditions imposed by the Canadians. Reciprocity with Canada is impossible, it is said, unless certain important American industries are sacrificed. Concessions which the fishermen of New England, the lumbermen of the Northwest, and farmers along the border would bitterly oppose, are demanded, and while it is pleasant for commercial organizations in the states to contemplate increased trade with Canada the opposition of the industries that would be disastrously affected must be considered.

MOLINEAUX'S FIGHT FOR LIBERTY ON

New York, Nov. 14.—Rolland Molineaux's fight for liberty began in the general sessions court this morning. Molineaux was not in court. Ex-Gov. Hill headed the counsel for the prosecution while ex-Gov. Black headed the counsel for the defendant. Black asked for a dismissal of the indictment on the ground that not sufficient evidence was given before the grand jury and because much of it was irrelevant.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Nov. 14.—Newell C. Rathbun denied this morning that he was Pat Crowe as alleged in a dispatch from Little Rock where the chief of police made the identification of the two men. Rathbun is closely confined.

MERRY EVENTS IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

MRS. H. G. CARTER AND MRS. J. A. SUTHERLAND ENTERTAIN

Miss Florence Spooner Celebrates Her Entrance Into Her Teens By Entertaining about Twenty of Her Friends—Twelfth Anniversary of Marriage of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kelley.

Eighty-five of the society ladies of this city are indebted to Mrs. H. G. Carter and Mrs. J. A. Sutherland for one of the most pleasant of social evenings. Mrs. Carter and Mrs. Sutherland were the hostesses at a five o'clock tea, given at Mrs. Carter's home, 107 Pleasant street, last evening, and their gracious hospitality evidenced itself not only in the cordial greetings with which they welcomed their guests but in every detail of the arrangements made for the comfort and pleasure of the ladies whom they entertained.

The spacious parlors of the home were a perfect bower of beauty, made so by a wealth of chrysanthemums, the great feathery blossoms being used in profusion. In this dainty setting of floral loveliness, small tables were laid and as soon as the welcome greetings were over the guests were seated at the tables and served with a supper which was a happy illustration of the perfection of culinary skill and faultless service. The hostesses were assisted in waiting upon their guests by Mesdames W. H. Judd, Mary Doty, O. Sutherland, E. P. Doty and W. H. Greenman and Misses Mabel Greenman and Margorie Mout. The ladies who served were all gowned in white.

After supper the guests devoted themselves to the enjoyment of six handed euchre. The usual merriment accompanied the game, at the close of which handsome prizes were awarded. Mrs. E. J. Smith was the happy winner of the first prize, Mrs. A. L. McIntosh was fortunate in securing the lucky number prize and the consolation prize reconciled Mrs. H. W. Frick to her low score.

Thirteen years ago yesterday Miss Florence Spooner first opened her eyes upon the scenes of this world and found a warm welcome awaiting her. Yesterday she celebrated her entrance into the teens in a very happy manner at the home of her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Spooner, 122 Madison street by entertaining about twenty of her young girl friends at a 5:30 o'clock tea.

A dainty and appetizing supper was served at small tables, Mr. and Mrs. Spooner being assisted in waiting on the guests by Mrs. O. D. Lincoln and Mrs. W. S. Phillips. No better proof of the fact that the little people appreciated the birthday feast could be needed than the keen relish with which they partook of the dainties prepared for them.

After supper there was the jolly time such as only children know how to enjoy. There were peanut contests and other games but the most fun of all were the tricks and acts which the children regarded with the greatest wonder, such as lifting people from a table by placing finger tips under them. The children thought it great fun to be able to raise each other and even the older people in this manner.

During the early part of the evening little Phyllis Spooner was the center of attraction and she entertained the guests admirably. Later Mr. Spooner was pressed into service as director of games and with him as leader the children had a jolly evening indeed. Miss Florence received many handsome gifts among them being a beautiful orange spoon from her first ward friends who were her guests. Goodnights were said reluctantly about 8:30 o'clock.

The twelfth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Kelly was celebrated by them in a very happy manner at their pleasant home, 5 Chatham street last evening, about seventy-five of their friends and neighbors enjoying the pleasure of the delightful occasion with the host and hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Kelly entertained charmingly and the parlors of their new home were beautified with an abundance of choice cut flowers.

Card playing was the form of entertainment provided for the evening and the guests enjoyed the games heartily. In the race for honors Mrs. Willis Taylor and James McCaffery outdistanced the other members of the company and captured the first prizes while the consolation prizes were awarded to Mrs. Daly, of Milwaukee, and Thomas Fox.

An elegant supper was faultlessly served and was pronounced by the guests a wedding feast worthy the name. Mr. and Mrs. Kelley were the recipients of many handsome gifts which will serve as constant reminders of the happy anniversary. Chief among the gifts was a beautiful sideboard, which a number of their friends had clubbed together and purchased.

The presentation was made by Fred Smith whose well chosen words of congratulation voiced the sentiment of all present.

Members of the Modern Woodmen of America and their auxiliary camp, the Royal Neighbors of America and their families enjoyed a social party at West Side Odd Fellows' hall last evening. Baldwin & Rehfeld's orchestra furnished music for the dancing and those who were not inclined to trip the light fantastic found plenty of entertainment at the card tables. It was a jolly occasion, the merry makers entering into the fun of the evening in a spirited manner. The party was the first one of a series to be given during the winter and was so pleasant that the members of the two orders will look forward with pleasure to the socials which are to come.

SHOOTING STARS SCARCE LAST NIGHT

Janesville People Remained Up Until a Late Hour, But Were Disappointed.

The display of Leonids, or "shooting stars," as they are commonly called, did not materialize to a great extent early this morning, as predicted by the astronomers. Many persons stayed up until a late hour to see the display which is scheduled to last through tonight and tomorrow night and while an occasional falling star rewarded their vigil they were few and far between.

For several nights now astronomers and astronomical photographers will watch eagerly for the expected shower of Leonids which has been looked for about the middle of November ever since 1899. This meteoric shower, which takes its name from the constellation Leo, last appeared in 1866 and in 1867. According to the calculations of astronomers, a recurrence of the shower was due in 1899, but for some reason unexplained it did not take place. The usual display of a few hundred "shooting stars" was seen, but it was nothing remarkable. Last year the astronomers watched again in vain. If the shower does not take place this month they will be forced to the conclusion that the attractions of the planets have been so disturbing that the meteor swarm has been attracted out of its path.

Mining Plant Is Engulfed.

Joplin, Mo., Nov. 14.—The entire plant of the Aurora Mining Company at Oronogo, comprising a 100-ton mill, office building and engine-house, was engulfed by a cavern. Six gravel cars and an immense tailing pile were also swallowed up. No lives were lost. Workmen in the mine heard the timbers cracking shortly before the cavern occurred, and were drawn up. The last man had reached the surface only a few minutes when the timbers collapsed, the earth yielded, and with a crash the whole plant sank into the abyss. Further caving is feared, and work in that vicinity has been suspended. It is impossible to estimate the damage.

Wife Ten Years Kept Secret.

Pana, Ill., Nov. 14.—A marriage performed ten years ago and kept secret until now has caused much surprise here. The principals are Miss Jessie Williams and Forrest Roach, and their union became known through the departure of the wife to join her husband at Armourdale, Kan. ## KINODROME OPENS AT GRAND TONIGHT

Concerning the Kinodrome which opens a three nights' engagement at the Myers Grand tonight, the Daily Republican of Belvidere, Ill., under date of Nov. 8, says:

"The Kinodrome more than fulfilled its promises and the audience was given a program most satisfying and full of laughter and merriment. There was enough of grave sentiment to show sharp contrast with the many humorous and laughable views. The pictures of the scenes of the funeral of the late president were particularly good, and the audience sat in breathless silence as the long procession wound through the dripping rain in the streets of Washington. So distinct was it that the rain drops could be seen spattering on the smooth surface of the asphalt of Pennsylvania avenue. Then during the scenes at Canton, the audience sat in breathless and strained interest. Preceding this, when the late president was seen addressing his last speech to the people and reviewing the troops there was much applause.

"There were a lot of other good things, the Haverstraw tunnel, the storm at sea, the race between the Shamrock and the Columbia, the Cinderella pantomime, the last stand of Major Wilson and his troop, and scores of humorous views. The Kinodrome has caught the people and will play to big crowds during the next two nights."

THINK OF FORMING A STOCK COMPANY

Owners of the Improved Railway Chronograph Will Engage in Manufacture of the Machine.

J. W. Bates of Beloit, who was in the city Tuesday exhibiting the improved railway chronograph, the invention of H. G. Sedgewick, of Des Moines, Ia., in which he and the Rev. E. L. Eaton, formerly of this city are interested, is thinking of forming a stock company for its manufacture. He proposes to organize a company with $15,000 capital and would like to locate in Beloit or Janesville. He has already broached the plan to Beloit capitalists, and so far has succeeded in getting about $6,000 pledged for the company. Rev. Eaton has already had offers from Pittsburg capitalists to locate the company in that city. Rev. Eaton does not know how long he will remain in Pennsylvania and prefers to have the company locate in some western city. Some of the most influential and wealthy men of Beloit have signed their intention of joining the company and no doubt it will be located in that city. Mr. Bates' idea is to manufacture the machines and rent them to railroads at about ten cents a day or $36 a year. There are about 250,000 locomotives in use on the railroads of the United States and it would put the company on a firm foundation if they could get ten thousand machines in use.

It is certainly a wonderful invention and would more than pay the railroad for the rental in the amount of fuel saved by its use. Engineers with a machine of this kind on their engine that records every move made on the trip would be more careful in the use of fuel and other things, when they knew that a record they cannot tamper with is being kept against them.

Two of the improved machines are to be put into service at once, one on the St. Paul and one on the Northwestern and given a thorough test on their fast runs. A number of the machines are now in use on other roads and are giving perfect satisfaction. The promoters are satisfied that it is only a question of time when the machine will be in general use on all roads.

Charged with Obstructing Road.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 14.—Warrants were issued for the arrest of four men of Lemont, who are charged with malicious mischief. It is claimed they put ties on the track of the Chicago & Joliet electric railroad last Sunday, wrecking a car and endangering the lives of nearly fifty passengers. The men deny their guilt. They are: Alderman Frank Budnik, Stanislaw Nawakoski, Michael Nordskey and Vincent Slovasoskey.

May Not Be a Murder.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 14.—Deputy County Coroner West, after viewing the body of the man known as Joseph Murray, found in a deep ravine a few miles east of the city, said: "I am not sure that Murray was murdered. There were no marks found on his body aside from a slight abrasion on the right shoulder. An inquest will be held after further investigation." The dead man's real name is said to have been Joseph Carroll.

Major Hugh Belknap Dead.

Washington, Nov. 14.—A dispatch was received at the War Department announcing the death of Major Hugh R. Belknap, former Congressman from Chicago, at Calamba, Laguna, Luzon. Death was caused by gangrene, resulting from septic poisoning of the intestines.

Troops Sent to Guard Negro.

Montgomery, Ala., Nov. 14.—Governor Jelks has ordered the military company at Troy to proceed at once to Ozark to protect Paraph Parramore, a negro, from being lynched.

HOLD RATHBUN FOR MURDER

Insurance Swindler Turned Over to Indiana Authorities.

PRISONER TELLS NOTHING

The Cause of Goodman's Death to Be Ascertained Before Case Is Arranged—Laudanum Found in Goodman's Stomach—Coroner Needs Poison.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 14.—A charge of murder has been preferred against Newell C. Rathbun by Prosecutor Mayfield of the Clark county (Ind.) circuit court and Rathbun was taken to Jeffersonville on the 8:30 o'clock p. m. boat by Sergeant Skinner of the local recruiting station, who only released him as a deserter from the army when he was in the custody of the Indiana authorities on a capital charge. Circuit Judge Marsh will convene the grand jury in special session on Monday to investigate the death of Charles Goodman, Rathbun's victim, who has been found to have been a brass worker, formerly of Cripple Creek, Colo. The body of Goodman will be returned from Little Rock as soon as the jury there has finished with it.

Feel Sure of Rathbun's Identity.

The authorities here are confident that Deputy Sheriff Chichester, on his arrival, will have no difficulty in establishing the prisoner's identity as Rathbun, and thus obtain the release of the body identified as Rathbun by his family. The Louisville authorities willingly released Rathbun to the Indiana officers, as they have absolutely no evidence here that Goodman was poisoned. When Rathbun learned that doubt existed in Little Rock as to the identity of the body he refused absolutely to talk further.

Think Rathbun an Alias.

The detectives are convinced that the name Rathbun is an alias and that he has never told his real name, or his real home.

The Louisville police have begun sending all over the United States photographs and a description of Rathbun in an effort to positively identify him. A telegram has been received from the Chief of Police of Evansville, Ind., stating that Goodman was a resident of Cripple Creek, Colo., where he was a brass worker. Mr. Benson Doolittle, proprietor of a drug store in Evansville, close to the undertaking establishment of E. M. Coots & Sons, was in the morgue when the alleged discovery was made that Goodman's stomach contained laudanum. The fumes were unmistakable, he insists. Coroner E. M. Coots also instantly noticed laudanum. In the jail at Jeffersonville Rathbun was asked whether his wife at Little Rock was implicated in the plot to collect the insurance. After several moments' silence he replied: "No; there was nobody in it at Little Rock."

Inquest Over Dead Man.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 14.—The inquest over the remains supposed to be those of Newell C. Rathbun was resumed at 10 o'clock a. m. Former Chief of Police E. M. Sanders, Durand Whipple, who rented the room which Rathbun occupied as a recruiting office, and William O'Connell, who roomed with Rathbun several weeks previous to his marriage, testified that the remains were not those of Rathbun. Detective Chichester left for Louisville with Emil Gloeckler to identify Rathbun. The body here will remain in the keeping of the police until Chichester reports.

Beloit Football Coach Believes His Team Will Defeat Northwestern Saturday.

Beloit, Wis., Nov. 14.—Coach Hollister's football team is going through some stiff practice every afternoon in preparation for Saturday's game with Northwestern. The boys are all in good condition and with the training they are now undergoing should give the Methodists the hardest kind of a rub. Hollister is not only hopeful of winning from Northwestern but thinks his team should make a good showing against Michigan.

Rev. Richard M. Vaughn is confined to his home by illness.

Scrofula

This root of many evils—Glandular tumors, abscesses, pimples and other cutaneous eruptions, sore ears, inflamed eyelids, rickets, dyspepsia, catarrh, readiness to catch cold and inability to get rid of it easily, paleness, nervousness and other ailments including the consumptive tendency—Can be completely and permanently removed, no matter how young or old the sufferer.

Hood's Sarsaparilla was given the daughter of Silas Vernoy, Waverling, N. Y., who had broken out with scrofula sores all over her face and head. The first bottle helped her and when she had taken six the sores were all healed and her face was smooth. He writes that she has never shown any sign of the scrofula returning.

A Medicine for Old People.

Rev. Geo. Gay, Greenwich, Kas., is past 83 years of age, yet he says: "I am enjoying excellent health for a man of my age, due entirely to the rejuvenating influences of Dr. Miles' Nervine. It brings sleep and rest when nothing else will, and gives strength and vitality even to one of my old age."

"I am an old soldier," writes Mr. Geo. Watson, of Newton, Ia., "and I have been a great sufferer from nervousness, vertigo and spinal trouble. Have spent considerable money for medicine and doctors, but with little benefit. I was so bad my mind showed signs of weakness. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine, and I know it saved my life."

Dr. Miles' Nervine

Saved me from the insane asylum. Mrs. A. M. Heifner, of Jerico Springs, Mo., writes: "I was so nervous that I could scarcely control myself, could not sleep nor rest, would even forget the names of my own children at times. I commenced using Dr. Miles' Nervine and it helped me from the first, and now I am perfectly well."

YELLOW JOURNALISM.

Hearst's Chicago American is having a little experience just now in Judge Haney's court that is to say the least, interesting. The judge appears to have taken the law into his own hands, and about a dozen of the "American" staff have been arrested and tried for contempt of court, with the result, that some of them are serving out a jail sentence.

While but little sympathy is expressed for Mr. Hearst, yet the judge is being severely criticised for the course pursued, on the ground that if he had been libeled, that he might have sued the publisher for damages pursuing the same course open to all citizens, who have similar grievances.

It is claimed by the press that Judge Haney took advantage of his official position, to deal with the paper in an unusual way and that the same policy, generally adopted, would interfere with the freedom of the press.

That the establishing of such a precedent would encourage corruption, and be detrimental to the interests of the people.

There is more than a grain of truth in the argument and it is an open question as to whether the ruling of the judge will be sustained in the higher court.

Mr. Hearst himself is in California at the present time. When he returns he will be arrested and doubtless subjected to the same penalty as his employees. He will, of course, put up a stubborn fight, and he has an abundance of money to carry it on.

The New York Journal, his eastern paper, is being tried just now in the court of public opinion, the highest court in the land so far as newspapers and public utterances are concerned.

The Journal, like the American and the San Francisco Examiner, lives on sensation. The papers had a large constituency up to the time of President McKinley's assassination, when the public woke up to the fact that it had encouraged, by liberal patronage, a class of papers that was not only disloyal to the government, but whose principal stock in trade was the maligning of public and private character.

As a result of this awakening the business men of San Francisco withdrew their advertising patronage, while the circulation of the New York paper is said to have fallen off 50,000 copies in fifteen days.

This telling verdict, rendered by the public, is worth more as a regulator, than any penalty for misdemeanor, that may be inflicted by any court in the land. It touches the bank account and produces an argument so strong, that any intelligent publisher recognizes it at a glance, and immediately establishes an era of reform.

It remains for the people to say, not only in New York and Chicago, but everywhere else, what the moral tone of the press shall be. If public sentiment relieves sensation bordering on scandal, it will be furnished in any community where newspapers thrive.

Public sentiment is the foundation of written law, and it is the only influence that successfully governs in the long list of questions that have to do with that subtle thing called unwritten law.

This sentiment has been thoroughly aroused of late and if it results in more than a spasm of virtue much good will follow.

SECRETARY OF COMMERCE.
The National Business Men's league now in session at Washington, will ask the president to recommend in his forthcoming message, a new cabinet portfolio, to be known as the department of Commerce and Industry.

A bill was presented in the senate some years ago, providing for this contingency, but was pigeon-holed for lack of interest. The country is developing so rapidly along these lines that the business interests demand closer consideration, and the cabinet is likely to be reinforced by a new office, with a secretary appointed to direct its affairs.

The agricultural department, which was a laughing stock at first, has already passed the experimental stage, and the farming interests of the country have been greatly benefited. The crop statistics sent out every month by the secretary of agriculture, are not only reliable, but free from prejudice and self-interest. Through these reports any intelligent farmer is able to determine for himself what the food supply is, and to judge with reasonable accuracy about the condition of the markets for the year.

The commercial and industrial interests of the country are of great magnitude, and a national bureau at the seat of government will be found very helpful. It has long since been discovered that the office of an American consul, is purely a business office, and while the service is inefficient, because of the meagre support, it is only a matter of time when this defect will be remedied, and consular appointees will represent the best class of business men that money can hire. These foreign agents are the government's business representatives abroad, and if under the direction of a secretary in Washington, the relations between home and foreign interests would be much closer than at the present time.

American enterprise in pushing out for foreign trade, is entitled to every encouragement, and the new portfolio, recommended by the Business Men's League is both practical and important.

RAFAEL REYES SPINDOLA.
While American boys are forging to the front, and "Success" and other publications of this class are filled with accounts of successful men and how they won, other countries are also furnishing examples of young men, who, by energy and perseverance, are winning prizes.

Notable among this class is young Spindola, owner and proprietor of the two best papers in the City of Mexico. Spindola took up journalism as a boy in college and gained a reputation as a writer long before his school course was completed. He combined with other attainments, business ability, and while his first ventures as a publisher failed, he never lost confidence in himself, but with dogged persistency, kept at it until he won.

His papers are penny papers in Mexican money, and yet they have passed the 100,000 limit in circulation, and have made a fortune for the enterprising publisher. When it is considered that the average Mexican is not a reader, and that no poorer field could be selected for journalism than the Mexican frontier, it will be realized what intelligent ambition without capital, can accomplish.

The young man in this enlightened land who spends his time today waiting for opportunities, would not recognize one if it was labeled and unloaded at his door.

A Fond du Lac man, gave his intended a check for $500, on a bank in the northern part of the state, as a wedding present. After the marriage the wife proposed to help buy a house, and her husband was given the check to collect. He had no bank account, either at home or anywhere else, and finally deceived his wife by coming home in a demoralized condition, pretending that he had been robbed. A divorce is in order.

With democratic harmony and republican brotherly love, next year will be a good time for the prohibition party to get in its deadly work. If the state needs reforming, better commence at the bottom. Carrie Nation can be induced to change her residence, and between the hatchet and the law there will be some hope for Milwaukee.

The campaign railroad train was side-tracked during the governor's illness, on account of his nervousness. The Scofield cow was sent over the road every day two years ago, without regard to illness in the family, or any other consideration. It makes a difference whether you travel by rail or express.

Sixty thousand for license this fall is a good record for Wisconsin. Several times that amount is invested in equipment, and it is safe to say that every duck shot costs a ten dollar bill, and every deer, ten times that amount, and yet some people are too poor to go to church.

Because a judge has decided that an oath over the telephone is legal it don't follow that you should swear at the "hello" girl.

The first day in the northern woods resulted in killing five men and wounding four more, the deer escaped injury.

PRESS COMMENT.
Milwaukee Sentinel: Justice Jerome should have little difficulty in fulfilling his political promises. There are lots of vacancies at Slag Sing and few applications for them.

Milwaukee Sentinel: A French surgeon has fitted a patient with an artificial larynx that can never feel fatigue—one just like Mr. Bryan's, in fact.

Marquette Eagle: It is reported that Jerro Murphy may come here and put a little life into the Argus. Another ex-democrat might not increase its republicanism, however.

Appleton Post: Judging from his portrait in the Madison Democrat of Friday ex-President Cleveland is "sickled all over with the pale cast of thought."

Racine Journal: If protection was a good thing in 1896 it is an equally good thing now. If protection was good to build up a tin plate industry it is equally good to build up the sugar beet industry.

Milwaukee Journal: La Follette leaders around the state are said to be explaining that the governor is an infant and did not appreciate the danger he incurred by riding on a cheap special train.

Superior Telegram: It took a long time and a good deal of hammering to arouse New York's sense of de-cey, but it was finally aroused. This should teach us not to despair of awakening other municipalities.

La Crosse Republican and Leader: Havana, which for centuries, was one of the unhealthiest of cities, is now shown by the war department statistics to be one of the healthiest cities of its population.

Portage Register: These newspapers which have attempted to answer Henry Fink's article all seem to have come up standing after having declared him to be a persistent office seeker. This may be true, but it answers none of Mr. Fink's statements.

Green Bay Gazette: Governor La Follette has issued his Thanksgiving proclamation in conformity with the usual custom. The people of Wisconsin will give thanks as of old, but it is probable the prayers which ascend from political tables will be widely divergent as to the blessings sought.

Evening Wisconsin: Capt. Oberlin M. Carter is not to have a new trial. The present legal proceedings are instituted to determine whether the property which the government detectives have seized is Carter's own property or was stolen from the United States. The captain insists that he is the most innocent of men, but we suspect the general sentiment is that he is one of the greatest scoundrels in America.

Ex-Gov. Hoard's Jefferson County Union, half-breed rep.: The stalwart rebels have been in the fame of politics so long, and have been hired men to so many rich corporations, getting fat fees for what legislation they could promote or hinder, as their masters wanted, that the common people should not wonder that they have kicked up a rump. . . . La Follette will be renominated and re-elected and these land marked stalwarts will be heard declaring they were for him all the time. And that will not choke them either.

PHILOSOPHY OF THE STREET.
If step-mothers and step-fathers are to blame for all the troubles that are laid at their doors, human nature is worse than generally supposed.

Those who want to criticize their employers should begin by resigning.

Never let the habit of saying "no" become chronic.

Those who weigh their words seldom have anything to say.

The man who thinks he can drown his troubles might as well go with them.—Milwaukee Journal.

THE OTHER FOOT.
The Oshkosh Northwestern says: Honest criticism of the governor is one thing, and persistent nagging regarding his conduct quite a different proposition. There is no question about it. It is almost as bad as the treatment accorded Gov. Scofield during his first term of office, when the state was flooded with pamphlets entitled "Gov. Scofield's Record as Shown By His Official Acts," to do him dirt. Nagging was all right then—but all wrong now, as far as the half-breeds are concerned.—Rice Lake Leader.

TRY AGAIN.
Yet Delton in November last cast 157 votes for La Follette, whereas two years before Gov. Scofield received but 101 votes.—State Journal, half-breed rep.

The Madison paper must be more careful in its citations of statistics; figures are dangerous things to use unskillfully. In this case Delton cast 163 votes for Scofield in 1896, with a total opposition vote of 45. That was a square test of republican strength. In 1898, when Scofield was nominated against the bitter opposition of the half-breeds, Mr. Scofield received 101 votes. It is reasonable to suppose that all the stalwarts supported him, so 62 half-breeds must have bolted the ticket. In 1900, when Mr. La Follette was the candidate, he received 157 votes with a total opposition of 48 votes. This shows that but six stalwarts bolted. Delton is not a very creditable example for half-breeds to cite as showing Gov. La Follette's strength; it shows too much for their good.—Milwaukee Journal.

"YOURS NOT TO REASON WHY."
President Patton of Princeton university, recently delivered a sermon at the Fifth Avenue Collegiate church his subject being "Faith." Dr. Patton spoke of the blind faith of the client who puts himself at the mercy of a lawyer in preparing an action for trial, and of the confidence of the sick in trusting themselves to the physician.

"A case of blind faith," said the clergyman. "The doctor writes out a prescription. Oftener than not you cannot read it; you don't know what it is. He told you to take it. 'Yours not to reason why, yours but to do and die.'"

Whether or not Dr. Patton meant it, there was a distinct ripple throughout the congregation.—New York Evening Sun.

BOWSER'S NEW IDEA
HE HAS ANOTHER IMPORTANT
SCHEME ON HAND.

Dogs & Hogs to Beat the Bacon Trust and "New Him Up in His Barn—It Gets Loose, However, and Almost Causes a Calamity.

[Copyright, 1901, by C. D. Lewis.]
When Mr. Bowser came home by way of the alley gate, the back yard and the basement the other afternoon two hours ahead of his time, Mrs. Bowser had just cause to suspect that he had a scheme on hand, and after a searching look at him she faltered: "You—haven't been buying another cow, have you?" "No, ma'am, I haven't," he replied, with an uneasy look in his eyes. "Is it chickens, then?" "No, ma'am." "You wouldn't be foolish enough to buy a horse?" "I hope not." "Look here," she continued, seeing signs of guilt in his face; "you've been doing something or other, and I want to know what it is. What did you come through the alley gate for?" "Let me tell you something," he replied as he walked around. "Last night the butcher told me that bacon had gone up 2 cents a pound." "Yes; I knew it had." "But that isn't all. It's to go up again next week, and in a month or so it will be as high as quail on toast. A

"BY THUNDER, THE HOG IS OUT!" bacon trust has been formed, and it means to squeeze the very life out of the people." "Well, as we don't eat bacon more than once a week, and then less than a pound at a time, I don't think our lives will be squeezed for some time. But what has the price of bacon got to do with your coming home through the back yard?" "Do you think I'm a man to sit calmly down and let a trust or any one else rob me of my hard earned money?" he exclaimed. "You bet I'm not! I'll be one of a thousand to help knock that bacon trust higher than a kite. Six of us have already got things under way to do it." "I thought you'd been up to some foolishness," remarked Mrs. Bowser. "And how are you going to bring things about?" "Each one of us, and there will be 50,000 or more, is to raise and cure his own bacon. What we don't want to eat we will give away to the poor. It is my own idea, and I feel mighty proud of it. Why, woman, we'll knock 'em stiff!" "In other words, you've gone and bought a hog?" "In other words, I have. We must have a hog to get pork, and we must have pork to get bacon. Yes, I was offered a hog at a very low price, and he's out in the barn now. I'm going to fatten him up for winter. Are you going to blow around about it and talk about fads and all that?" "No, I'm not going to say a word," sighed Mrs. Bowser. "After the price you paid for your last two hogs and the trouble you had with them I should have thought you'd have bought a rhinoceros or hippopotamus instead. However, go ahead with your bacon." "It is simply to smash the bacon trust, you know. By thunder, the hog is out in the yard!" So he was. He had sprung the barn door open and squeezed out, and as Mr. and Mrs. Bowser looked from a back window he was cheerfully chewing up a towel lying on the grass. "Well, there's your bacon," she dryly observed. "By the horn spoon, I'll knock that hog's head off!" he shouted as he turned to clatter down stairs and out into the yard. The hog took a run for it with the towel in his mouth, and seven times he circled that back yard with Mr. Bowser in pursuit. Then he squeezed himself back into the barn and gave his pursuer a chance to sit down and pant. It was expected that Mrs. Bowser would sneer and say something mean, but she didn't, and after awhile he carelessly inquired: "Well, how do you like the looks of the hog?" "I think you've got a prize," she replied. "Yes—that is, he's a good enough hog to start on. It'll take about two months to fatten him up. I shall have a pen built tomorrow, and in a day or two you'll see him begin to fill out. Can you remember what they feed pigs besides swill and corn?" "I believe they do on towels." Mr. Bowser glared at her and hitched around uneasily, but thought best not to notice the sarcasm. Fifteen minutes later, as he sat reading, a wail of despair arose from the back yard and fairly jumped him to his feet. "Great Scott! What's that?" he asked of Mrs. Bowser, who showed no signs of excitement. "It's your hog," she replied. "But a hog doesn't wail out like a woman being murdered." A second and more prolonged wail followed his words, and the porker was heard beating the barn door with his hoofs. The identity of the wail was established, and Mr. Bowser started for the barn muttering: "That hog will stop that infernal noise or I'll stop him!" He entered the barn and walloped the wailer with a barrel stave for five long minutes, and the hog seemed to have other things to think of as Mr. Bowser retired to the house to sit down to dinner. A quarter of an hour passed, and then another sudden sound burst forth. It wasn't a wail, but more like a saw trying to cut its way through iron, and the cook came flying into the dining room to call out: "If that's a hyena you have in the barn, sir, he's raving for human blood!" "What do you think this is?" asked Mr. Bowser of his wife as he waved the cook out. "Lonesome probably," she replied. "Why in thunder should a hog be lonesome? Has he got to have a houseful of company and a brass band to keep him cheered up? I'll go out and lonesome him!" "I shouldn't be harsh with him, Mr. Bowser. You've started out to raise bacon and bust a trust, and you shouldn't kill your pork too soon." "Oh, you've got around to sarcasm again! I thought you were only playing possum." There was an interval of three minutes, and then that hog raised his voice to such a pitch and he had so many buzzsaws in it that every baby on the block felt his hair curl. The noise stretched out ten yards long and died away in a series of coughs and barks. "He evidently wants other towels," said Mrs. Bowser in her quiet way. "And he'll get 'em and death on top of 'em!" shouted Mr. Bowser as he pushed back from the table. "If that blamed critter thinks he's struck a muscle here, I'll show him his mistake." He reached the kitchen door to find the cook with a clothesprop in her hand, and as he wrested it from her she called out: "Look out for yourself! Your hyena is breaking out of the door again, and some of us will be devoured!" Mr. Bowser didn't have to go to meet the hog. The hog came to meet him, and he was full of business. The swiftness that was made at him with the prop ought to have rolled him over, but it simply staggered him. He paused a minute to get his breath, and then he made a rush for the open kitchen door. Mr. Bowser stood in front of it, but the rush drove him backward and sent him sprawling, and as he lay on the kitchen floor the hog galloped about, and Mrs. Bowser and the cook set up a scream.

BEARER OF PROTOCOL.

Commissioner Rockhill, Who Is Now Home From China.
The return to Washington of W. W. Rockhill, the commissioner who represented the United States in the negotiations between the allies and China, has revived interest in occidental affairs. Mr. Rockhill brings with him a copy of the protocol between China and the powers which was recently signed at Peking between the representatives of the various nations interested.

conduct the peace negotiations on behalf of our government and to deal with the representatives of the allies for a settlement of the difficulties arising out of the Boxer troubles. Mr. Rockhill was eminently qualified for this work, as he knows the Chinese thoroughly. He has traveled all over the empire, can read and write the language and is at home in all the customs of the people. Furthermore, he was educated in France and speaks the language of diplomacy as well as his mother tongue. Another thing that made Mr. Rockhill's presence particularly desirable in China was the fact that he was a trained diplomat. He has been in the diplomatic service since 1881, when he was appointed from Maryland as second secretary of the legation at Peking. He was afterward charge d'affaires at Seoul, Korea, and it was while he was holding this position that he made a tour of exploration in Tibet. In 1893 he was appointed chief clerk in the department of state and the next year was given the position of third assistant secretary of state, from which he was finally promoted to be first assistant secretary. In 1897 he was nominated minister to Greece by President McKinley.

TO STAR IN NEW PLAY.

Grace George Will Have Leading Part in Romantic Southern Drama.
Grace George, who is to appear as a star at a New York theater in a play called "Under Southern Skies," is by no means a stranger to the theater going public. She scored a success last year in "Her Majesty" which warranted many in believing she had a great future as an ingenue of the Maude Adams type. After two years' instruction under Sargent Miss George made her first public appearance as Nancy, the in-genue role in "The New Boy." In succession she filled parts in "The Girl I Left Behind Me," "Charley's Aunt" and "The Wandering Minstrel." In private life she is the wife of William A. Brady, the well known theatrical manager, whom she married shortly before the withdrawal of "The Turtle." Her stage methods are natural and realistic, while personally she is very attractive.

FIRST SOCIAL OF TRAVELING MEN.

Will Hold One of Their Old Time Jollifications On Saturday Evening Next.

Members of the United Commercial Travelers of this city and their families are planning for one of their jollifications next Saturday evening when they will hold the first social of the season at East Side Odd Fellows' hall. The festivities begin at 6:30 o'clock with a supper served by the ladies of the U. C. T. under the direction of Mesdames C. A. Sanborn, Harry Garbutt, William Morris, the committee of ladies who have the supper in charge.

The traveling men almost invariably start their social gatherings with plenty of good things to eat but next Saturday evening there is to be an additional course which has never been served with any of their preceding banquets. It is to be a post prandial feast of toasts and the committee of arrangements is congratulating itself on being able to secure ex-Mayor John Thoroughgood to serve as toastmaster. The following toasts will be given:

Experiences—H. L. McNamara.
Tales From Over the Sea—Harry Garbutt.
The Old Time Traveling Man—H. P. Bliss.
The Hotels—F. F. Nicholson.
The Wife Side—Mrs. J. H. Nicholson.

After the supper and program which will not be gloomy or solemn if one may judge anything from the subjects and the people who are to make the responses, there will be a general social time. The gathering is for U. C. T. members and their families only and is sure to be a very happy one. All arrangements have been made by the social committee of the organization which includes Fred Van de Water, M. C. Fish and W. E. Clinton.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Christ Zabel of Monroe, and is well known both in that city and in Janesville. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Grove, of this city, and for some time past has been an employee of the Wisconsin Carriage Co., as a painter. Supper was served to the immediately family directly after the return of the happy couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Grove will be at home to their many friends after November 14, at 52 Elizabeth street, Janesville.

RAILROAD LIFE HIS THEME.

Vaughan Kester, a Novelist Who Has Invaded a New Field.

The railroad business seldom appeals to novelists, for the simple reason that to write a good railway novel which shall be true to life involves a technical knowledge possessed by few writers of fiction. Vaughan Kester, the author of "The Manager of the B. and A.," has, however, used this theme as the motive for his story, and if the critics are to be believed has used it with considerable success.

Mr. Kester is a newcomer in the field of fiction, but he is known in the dramatic world as a collaborator with his brother Paul, the well known playwright. As might be expected, he has infused a good deal of action into his novel, though it is far removed from being at all theatrical.

The Kesters are living in Virginia in the historic Woodlawn mansion, the old home of "pretty Nelly Custis." The house is beautifully situated on the bank of the Potomac, about three miles from Mount Vernon.

Vaughan Kester is now well advanced on a novel of more serious interest and greater length than "The Manager of the B. and A.," but, as in his first book, he will confine himself to those aspects of American life with which he is familiar.

Berlin, Nov. 14.—All efforts to bring about a reconciliation between the Grand Duke and Grand Duchess of Hesse, grandchildren of Queen Victoria, who have been estranged since 1895, have failed. A divorce is now being arranged.

HOTTEST GAME OF THE SEASON

Tomorrow Afternoon the Seniors Will Meet an All-Star Team at Athletic Park.

Tomorrow afternoon Athletic park will be the scene of the hottest football contest of the season. On that occasion the senior football team will try to win fresh laurels by defeating an all star team, composed of the best players to be secured in the high school, outside of the Senior class. The game is the result of a challenge issued by the Senior class team after it had defeated all three of the other class teams. Wish- ing to test their strength further and prove if possible that the Senior team was superior to all others, a challenge was issued to the entire school. It was promptly accepted and Piny Wilbur, a Junior, was chosen by the school as captain of the picked team.

The team, which has been chosen to represent the school is the best which three classes can furnish and is a dandy. The Seniors have felt confident of winning the game until they became acquainted with the lineup of the school team. Then they began to look dubious although they still assert that they are sure of victory. They admit, however, that they expect a hard game. The All-Stars, whom the Seniors contemptuously designate as the scrubs, are going into the game with the intention of lowering the Seniors' colors a little and with the determination to win. The teams are evenly matched and the result will be a close and hard fought game.

The game will be called promptly at 3:30 o'clock being played Friday instead of Saturday because so many of the players are planning to go to Madison to see the Wisconsin-Minnesota game. The final choice for some of the positions on the All-Star team have not been made but the lineup will be about as follows:

UNIQUE GERMAN WEDDING FEAST

William J. Lennartz Celebrated His Marriage With Male Friends at Concordia Hall Last Night.

William J. Lennartz, whose marriage was celebrated on Tuesday evening, entertained his gentleman friends of the Concordia society and the mail carriers most royally last evening at a reception given for them at Concordia hall. About thirty gentlemen were present the majority of them being Germans. Consequently nothing could have pleased them better than the substantial and typical German supper which was served at long tables as soon as the guests had all arrived. Many of the old time German wedding customs were observed, G. C. Fritz taking charge of this part of the program. The Concordia singing society under the direction of Prof. William Thiele, sang several selections during the evening. It was a convivial company determined on having a good time as guests of the newly made groom and if anyone failed to enjoy the gathering it was not because there was any lack of fun or good things to eat and drink.

The gentlemen who were Mr. Lennartz's guests last evening had previously sent their wedding present to his home, the Concordia society and the mail carriers uniting in presenting Mr. and Mrs. Lennartz with a set of solid silver. It is rumored that Mr. Lennartz's desk in the postoffice is a thing of beauty if one appreciates the artistic value of old delapidated shoes and other sentimental articles as decorations. It is not a sample of Mr. Lennartz's handiwork but was decked out in honor of his wedding day by the mail carriers.

The Tobacco Market

The situation in the local tobacco market so far as the 1901 crop is concerned is practically the same as that of several weeks ago. The ideas of the grower and dealer regarding the crop are so far apart that there is no meeting point on the price.

The condition of the crop is such that there will be very little buying until the tobacco is taken from the poles and stripped and handled. There are many good crops throughout the state but the price for them is hard to determine. A number of sales have been made in the neighborhood of ten cents and this is considered a good price.

The present crop as a whole will be a filler crop as the best of the tobacco is short and the leaves will not average over eighteen to twenty inches in length. The leaves are also heavy and gummy and make a good filler and will bring filler prices.

Wisconsin for a binder tobacco now leads the world and the demand for Wisconsin binders is unprecedented. Farmers having crops that will make binders are sure to realize a top price for them. It is the record of the past, that crops that make good binders have poor filler leaves and a good filler crop has very few good binders.

The 1900 crop was a binder crop and is being eagerly sought after at the present time in the eastern markets. Most of the crop is in the hands of large eastern firms who have warehouses and agents all over the tobacco growing sections. They are satisfied that they have a first class article and are not letting it get away from them except at a high price.

Considerable fat stem has developed in the late cut crops by the recent cold snap. Parts of crops that were put into the sheds green along late in the season, for fear of their being frost bitten are the ones most affected by the freeze. Fat stem tobacco is worthless to the dealer and is only good for making ship dip or other poisonous washes. As a whole the weather this fall has been favorable to the curing of the tobacco and many crops have turned out better than was expected.

Wisconsin still holds the attention of the market, says the U. S. Tobacco Journal for this week. Another block of a thousand cases went to an up-town manufacturing concern at a figure near, if not above, 17c. There are but few houses, which can be counted on the finger tips of one's hand, with any large holdings of Wisconsin, the rest having either sold out completely or hold what they have for distribution for their regular customers. The selling out of Wisconsin in huge blocks to large manufacturers is but a confirmation of the statements made repeatedly in this place that Wisconsin will be the scarcest article in the market the coming year, and that a veritable famine in binder leaf is coming. Nearly all the large manufacturers are laying in a second year's supply, and those that hesitate will have to pay a considerably advanced price for inferior goods. The prediction made by the U. S. Tobacco Journal months ago that Wisconsin will bring 18 and 20 cents is not being pooh-poohed as much now as it was then. For there is no abatement in the progressive activity of the cigar industry in spite of the still lingering scare.

The farmers in the Connecticut valley regard this year's increase of 67,750,817 domestic manufactured cigars during the months of July, August and September over that of last year as a very good reason why they should obtain higher prices for this year's crop, and the fact that there is more or less damage to the early cut leaf does not detract from their argument. That the damage is serious is demonstrated by the fact that buyers are hunting very little lot of old leaf that could not be sold last fall, and are paying from 15 to 18 cents for tobacco that last year was unsalable at ten or twelve cents. The farmers are, of course, loath to admit that there is much pole sweat, but that they are aware of its presence is indicated by one grower at South Deerfield who writes that most growers who had early crops or a portion set early took down from one to three acres ten days ago, and find a fine thin leaf of a light color, with some pole sweat on the lowest tier, with but little above that. Probably many crops will be assorted by the growers unless dealers will pay 20 cents in the bundle, and no docking on the delivery.

Present interest in Ohio is confined chiefly to the 900 crop, several sales being reported with prices ranging from 8 to 9 cents for Zimmer Spanish and 6 to 7 cents for seed leaf. Of this year's crop most of the earlier cut is cured sufficiently to strip. The later harvested weed, is of course, not so well advanced. Rain would be very welcome to bring tobacco in to case again, but even those who desire it most are afraid frost would follow the desired rain, with a consequent development of fat stems.

The buying of the new New York crop is now active, and the search for 1900 tobacco continues. Among the purchasers of this year's product the representatives of the American Tobacco company are prominent, and they are reported to have done considerable buying at prices ranging from 7 to 11 cents in the bundle. The prices varied considerably in different localities. At Oswego Falls, the price paid ran from 8 to 11 cents, the lower price being for tobacco that is believed to have been cut a little too soon because of the fear of frost. Around South Butler none of the crop brought over 9 cents, and independent buyers have even ceased purchasing at these figures. Many sales to independent buyers have been reported from other localities at higher figures than quoted, the price in some instances going to 13 cents in the bundle.

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 13.—News among leafmen is very scarce, as reports on business, with possibly one or two exceptions, are that it is pretty dull, and there does not seem to be much tendency toward improvement. Collections are also slow and rather discouraging. Manufacturers have nothing new, and their old cry is still the fashion. Clear Havana goods are moving fast. Business among the retailers is very good. One retail store closed shop last Friday and is now in the hands of a receiver. It was located in the west end of the Plankinton House and owned by Byron Lederer. The stock carried is not very large.

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—The past week can be put down as one of the busiest of the fall in leaf trade. Manufacturers seem to have suddenly awakened and discovered that they need tobacco to do business. The briskness was general and all dealers participated in the deluge of orders. Our cigar and tobacco jobbers report business as fair, and state that no unwonted activity is expected for some time, as most retailers have been loaded up through "deals" and special discounts. Meanwhile the work of the retail price cutter goes merrily on.

Henderson of Chicago as president for the ensuing year and the selection of other officers and in the naming of Philadelphia as the convention city for next year.

At Lansing the delegates were guests at luncheon of Col. E. S. Jewett, the warden. At Fort Leavenworth Warden McClaughry entertained the visitors. Tonight Prof. Charles E. Ellwood, University of Missouri, and Prof. F. W. Blackmar, Kansas University, will address the delegates and final adjournment will follow.

A DOCTOR'S EXPERIENCE.

"Strange as it may seem," remarked a physician, who has practiced in a small place for nearly 25 years, "three-fourths of my practice is amongst the farmers living within a radius of 12 miles of this town. Farmers ought to be the healthiest people on earth, but as a matter of fact, there is somebody sick in their families most of the time. The trouble is, they eat too much. Their stomachs become clogged, biliousness and headache follow, then they send for me. Town people over-eat too, but for reasons easily explained, they do not eat as much as a farmer and his family do. A great many people imagine they have heart disease, malaria and aggravated stomach trouble, when as a matter of fact it is their stomachs. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and Herb Laxative Compound taken as directed makes healthy stomachs. It breaks off indigestion, despondency, biliousness, headache and constipation and expels the doctor bills. It is sold by most druggists in 50c and $1.00 bottles. Ask for it, if he hasn't, we will be glad to send you a trial bottle and a valuable little book on stomach troubles free. Pepsin Syrup Company, Monticello, Ill., U. S. A."

THE RIGHT THING.

A New Catarrh Cure, Which is Rapidly Coming to the Front.

For several years Eucalyptol, Gualacol and Hydrastin have been recognized as standard remedies for catarrhal troubles, but they have always been given separately and only very recently an ingenious chemist succeeded in combining them, together with other antiseptics in a pleasant, effective tablet.

Druggists sell the remedy under the name of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, and it has met with remarkable success in the cure of nasal catarrh, bronchial and throat catarrh and in catarrh of the stomach.

Mr. F. N. Denton whose address is care of Clark House, Troy, N. Y., says: "When I run up against anything that is good I like to tell people of it. I have been troubled with catarrh more or less for some time. Last winter more than ever. Tried several so-called cures but did not get any benefit from them. About six weeks ago I bought a 50 cent box of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and am glad to say that they have done wonders for me and I do not hesitate to let all my friends know that Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are the right thing."

Mr. Geo. J. Casanova of Hotel Griffin, West 9th street, New York City, writes: "I have commenced using Stuart's Catarrh Tablets and already they have given me better results than any catarrh cure I ever tried." A leading physician of Pittsburgh advises the use of Stuart's Catarrh Tablets in preference to any other treatment for catarrh of the head, throat or stomach.

He claims they are far superior to inhalers, salves, lotions or powder, and are much more convenient and pleasant to take and are so harmless that little children take them with benefit as they contain no opiate, cocaine or any poisonous drugs.

All druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full size package and they are probably the safest and most reliable cure for any form of catarrh.

WHAT A BLESSING.

Many People in Janesville Learning To Appreciate.

Many a miserable man is happy now. Night of unrest, days of trouble. Itching Piles means this. Eczema just as bad, and just as bad to cure. But Doan's Ointment cures all itching, of the skin.

Here's Janesville Proof To Back Our Statement.

Mr. L. Lawrence, of 408 S. Franklin St., engineer at the Janesville Electric Light Co., says: "I tried about everything recommended for itching of the skin, but found nothing to give me relief until I struck Doan's Ointment at the People's drug store. I had an affection of the skin on my face caused from the burning oil about the engine and dynamo. My face itched and annoyed me, and rubbing it only made it worse and made it sore. I could hardly stand shaving, for the skin broke and bled. A few applications of Doan's Ointment removed the itching and healed up my face in a few days. I would not be without this remedy in my house, and I certainly recommend it to others in need of such a preparation."

OIL INSPECTOR MAKES A REPORT

Expenses Have Been Decreased and a Substantial Amount Goes Into the State Treasury.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 14.—The report of State Supervisor and Inspector of Illuminating Oils Edward E. Mills, now in the hands of the governor, shows that the expenses of the department have been much below the amount derived from the inspection of oils and that a substantial amount will be turned into the treasury of the state. It also shows that as a result of the law, requiring the branding of receptacles containing gasoline, not an accident has been reported to the department while previously such accidents were frequent. The deputy inspectors also stated that the law is fully complied with throughout the state.
